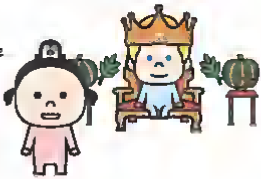
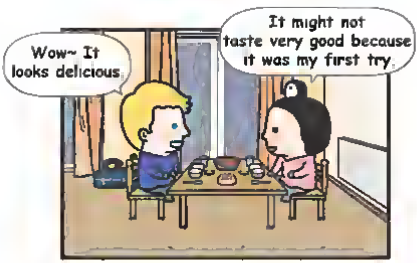
He means it.

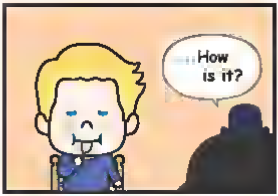
Do you think that Mev is the kind of husband who tries to make his wife feel good by telling white-lies?

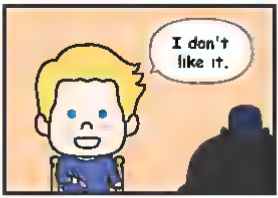


Honestly,
Mev is very very determined mon

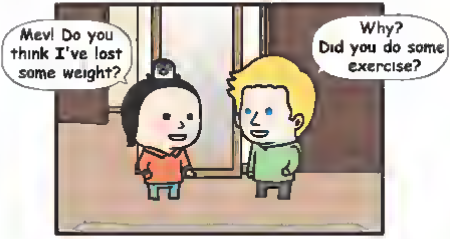


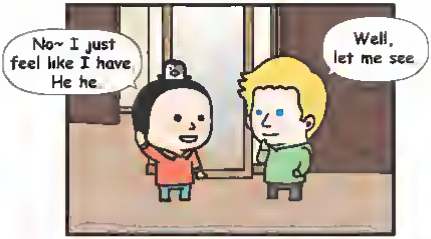
For example,
when he tastes Penguin's food...





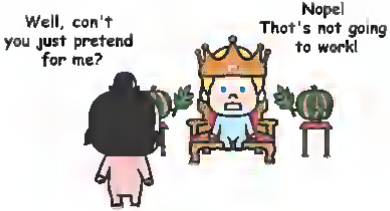
... he judges coldly



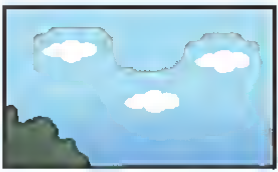


Although he could just ogree to moke Penguin hoppy,...

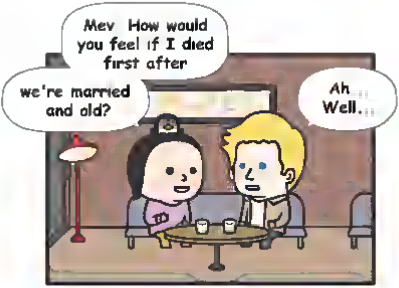
... he olways onswers honestly.



It's true that I'm sometimes dissatisfied by his honesty but it's impossible for me to change his mind because he thinks honesty is a virtue.

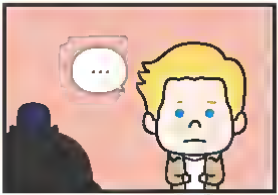


Mev's coldness was at its peak a few years ago when we were dating before we got married.

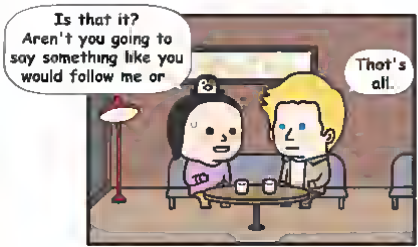


Mev How would you feel if I died first after we're married and old?
Ah... Well...

I would be really really sad and cry a lot



...



Is that it? Aren't you going to say something like you would follow me or That's all.

You mean, you would be very sad and cry
but you would be fine eventually Yeap

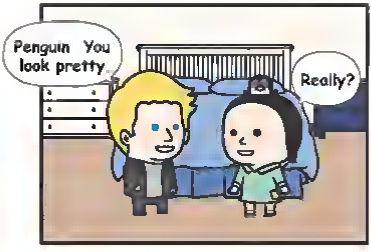
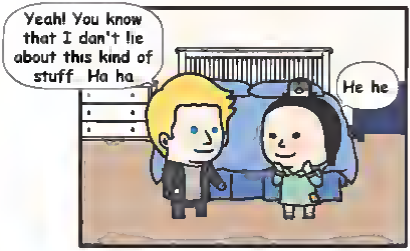
Why don't you say that you would get re-married quickly?
Can I...?

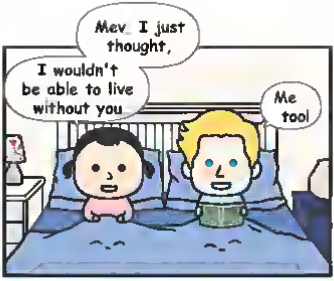
That was Mev.

But I'll tell you what,
There is an advantage of his cold
honesty as well

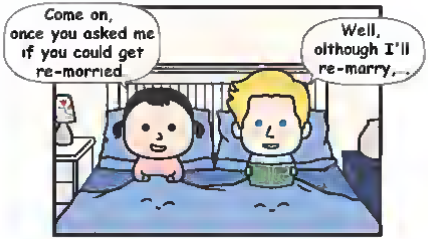




The advantage is that I don't need to doubt what Mev says.

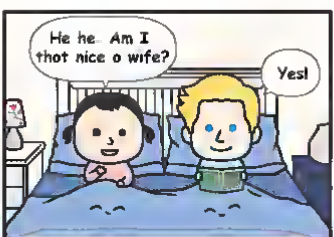


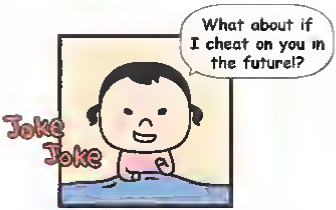
Mev_ I just thought,
I wouldn't be able to live without you
Me too!



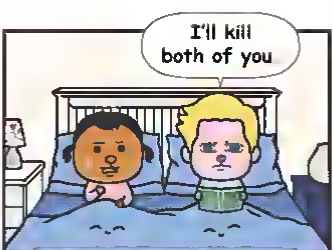
Come on, once you asked me if you could get re-married
Well, although I'll re-marry,...

Mev doesn't say empty words.





Therefore....



.... no cheating on him.
No!

He really means it.
